SENIORS

Rony Mark Adelsman

Rony Adelsman came to Park in his Sophomore year and immediately demonstrated his superior intellect to his teachers and fellow classmates. But even though Ron is extremely smart he isn't limited to just academic endeavors. He has left his mark on athletics and extracurricular activities as well. Ron will be remembered for his gym bag full of books, his chess prowess, and his frequent usage of friends' jackets in Biology II class

Bijan Behrouze

Bijan came to Park independently from Iran, not affiliated with any foreign exchange program, to receive an American education. Bijan's main goal is to become an engineer, his chief interest being Physics. Bijan works hard in all his subjects and has greatly overcome his barrier with the English language

John Edward Burns

Having come back to Park in his Junior year, Jerry was prompt in making the football squad and then conquered the basketball floor and baseball diamond in short order. Jerry was also an honorary member of the "Senior messing around society" and he earned it all during fifth period. One can't help but remember him for his MG, or lack of one, arctic ski coat and fadeaway jump shot, but the seniors will remember him most for his ready smile and crazy schemes!

Jon Eugene Byrd

Since Jon Byrd arrived at Park his Sophomore year, he has shown a great interest in the development of a Debate Team. Along with his high academic record, he gained the recognition of becoming the first senior to be accepted by a college, Cornell University. Jon has kept us informed on the adverse weather conditions in Greenwood by his frequent absences. Jon is planning a future in hotel administration, so good luck Jon!

Gary Richard Canada

Gary Canada had an illustrious interim at Park. He excelled in sports, especially baseball. While academics were not Gary's bag, he held his own in school. Gary will be remembered for his alertness in class, his fancy car, and an affinity with study hall.

Robert Allen Farley

Bob Farley will long be remembered at Park. He could always be counted on for some witty remark. Even though his sense of humor was unusual, he excelled in many areas, academically as well as athletically. The "Animal" was famous for his own personalized training rules, his excellence in languages, and the stories he told after heavy weekends.

"Herbie" came to Park as a sophomore and has amused the class of '69 for three years with his exaggerated stories, corduroy levis, mysterious love life, schemes to catch coke robbers, and his exotic diseases. As an athlete, he was a basketball and soccer star, but he was most respected for his midnight ping-pong prowess. But one cannot soon forget Herb's excellent board scores or his behavior in English class. Neither will anyone soon forget his love for Shortridge, the boogaloo, and the phrase which ended every story, "And in general, that's how people get hurt."

Ulrich Karl Hermann Friedrichson

Uli, as he likes to be called, is Park's third foreign exchange student, representing Youth for Understanding. Uli excels in Latin and History, and enjoys Cross Country, Wrestling, and Track. He has a warm personality and an Otto Preminger accent. Uli has displayed the great German wit and friendliness in his stay at Park. We are certain that he enjoyed his experience at Park, but that he certainly cannot wait until he can taste his first real GERMAN BEER!

James Dickason Gould

Since Jim Gould came to Park last year, he has been very active in many extra-curricular activities. One of his interests is the Wishbone Club, of which he is the treasurer. He has also been a dedicated member of the Panther staff, and he is the Associate Editor of its '69 edition. Jim is the only senior who has an Independent Study Project, and he is working diligently on it. He is renowned for his interesting caricature of "Floyd", for his establishment, The Gum Wrapper, his flashy Country Squire, and his huge Hudson Bay Blanket coat. Jim is famed for being an acquaintance of good friend Syd

Widge's election to the presidency of Key Club, a school service organization, attests to his many friends and their confidence in him. Having entered Park as a freshman, he has always been a leader academically and is one of the few who has successfully eluded trouble. Widge's athletic claim to fame is on the golf course where he bides his time with friends. He has never been left shorthanded where the women are concerned and always manages to make the party scene.

Andrew Jay Katz

Andy, or as we know him, "A.J.", because of his exploits in his sportin' red "Firebird", brightened his classes with his inquisitive nature. Andy entered Park in his Sophomore year and soon proved to be one of the most amiable students at Park. His casual appearance and nature along with his constant smile are features which boast of his friendliness!

John Hughes Lee

John Lee is one of the best dressed men on campus. The only time anyone questioned his taste in clothing was the day that he wore a pair of knickers. John is a member of the Student-Faculty Committee and is in the Honors Seminar. His Junior Year John was the only bearded football player during summer practice. He is the Business Manager of the Red and Black. John is a very friendly and inquisitive fellow student, who is always quick to smile. In Pritchett Patrol's jump-rope squad John leads the group with more jumps than Mr. Pritchett.

Big Tom came to Park in the eleventh grade for the school's first year at the new campus. He was quick in the discovery of new friends, mostly because of his never-ending smile. Tom always made up any short comings in the class room with his virtuoso performances on the football field or wrestling mat. Perhaps more than all else, Tom will be remembered for his limitless knowledge of cars.

Jack Clay Owen

Having served in the capacity of "star" for the golf, football and basketball team for two years, Jack is widely known for his talents. He serves as unofficial president of the "Senior messing around society" and will long be remembered for his famed hike of a football from the fireplace to the stage in the Library. Other qualities possessed by Jack which make him distinctive are his checked pants, the Meadowbrook, and his tape deck. However the Seniors will remember Jack longest for his big evening and the stories afterwards.

John Scott Peterson

Scott Peterson, "Pete", was best known for his race track around certain Broad Ripple residences. He excelled in athletics, especially wrestling, and became famous for his wrestling exhibitions. Along with these exhibitions, Pete will be remembered for his jeep and his casual conversations.

William John Rauch

Bill Rauch, having come to Park in the fourth grade, has been here second longest of any in the class of 1969. Much of Bill's time and effort has been concentrated on tennis and tournaments in the spring and summer. Through dedication and talent he achieved wide acclaim as the state's best 18 year-old tennis player. In spite of being known for his ubiquitous Ford bomb, apple-polishing, vacation journeys to Lauderdale, and country club attitude, he will always be best recalled for his faithful, long-term Tudor Hall romance. Bill's sudden academic inclination during his senior year puzzled many, but helped him aim high on college applications.

James Lincoln Rowe, Jr.

Jim Rowe entered Park last year and immediately established himself athletically as well as academically. He is a photographer for both the Panther and the Red and Black. Jim likes to reminisce about old days at Exeter and girls he has known. Jamie is a proctor that commands a tight library unless . . . He will long be remembered for his speedy blue Dart.

John Charles Scheuring

John is one of a few Seniors who started in Park as a Freshman. He is more often referred to as "The Shinker", than as "John" or even "Scheuring." A large smile, a final comment on homework assignments or a test result, and a jaunty walk through the halls are John's school characteristics. Outside of school, John enjoys relaxing and playing his guitar.

Kurt Walter Tauer

Kurt could be described simply as "the outstanding senior" in the class of '69. He has excelled in all his subjects and achieved the highest honors in academics and sports as well. Kurt was a key member of the football, wrestling, and baseball teams since he first came to Park, however little is known about his position on the Lebanon Wednesday Night Bowling Team! Kurt also greatly participated in extra-curricular activities. He was editor of the Panther, and a working member in Key Club, Varsity Club, and Wishbone Club, where he played one of the major parts in this year's play His broad smile, sarcastic "Oh sir", concern for underclassmen, and great sense of humor were characteristics which led to his being elected Student Council president, a job he carried out to the fullest! Yes, Park, there was a Lebanon!

Richard Clemens Wonnegut

Richie is the only member of the Senior Class to complete twelve years of education at Park. He is known mainly for his keen knowledge and interest in railroads, although he is enthusiastic in all of his endeavors. In sports, Richie is an avid Cross Country and Track man, taking time out in the winter seasons to manage the varsity Basketball team. Undoubtedly, Richie is a permanent fixture at Park School.

Dexter Stephen Whitehead

Dexter Whitehead 6'6" and quite tall too, Dexter towered over his fellow seniors, one would wonder why? Dex starred in basketball, cross country, and track in his Sophomore, and Junior years, and lettered in his first year of football! The senior class had Dexter as one of their three Student Council representatives, and he certainly filled his position well. Long sideburns, red socks, extreme love of coffee, and a Mormon Tabernacle Choir baritone all were trademarks of the "big" Dexter Whitehead

Laurel Conner Woodard

Since entering Park in the seventh grade, Laurel has managed to maintain both his grades and his playboy image during his stay. He has been an active member of the yearbook publication staff and has worked hard as a two-year letterman on the football team where he received honorable mention in the All-City balloting. As an avid sports car fan, he fulfills both the family and school tradition. While still wondering about the headless horseman, Laurel's social affairs will go down in Park annals as some of the most interesting

Dedication

It is to a teacher whom we all greatly respect that we, the Panther Staff, would like to dedicate the 1968-1969 Yearbook. Here is a teacher who is never at a loss for words, never without a quaint story or a humorous remark. In fact, seldom is any student exposed to a more unique sense of humor.

Generally short-tempered with the insincere student, this teacher is at the same time patient and understanding of the problems of a willing student.

Here is a person to whom many a thankless task has fallen and by whom many an emergency has been encountered with a firm belief in direct confrontation.

Which of his students will ever forget the trips to Chez Jeans or his love of Mr. De Gaulle or his ever lovin' "dictes"? His ability to mix the study of a language and stories of a country with coffee and cigarette smoke always maintains peak interest in his students.

After ten years of service to Park, it is with great admiration that we, the Panther Staff, dedicate the 1969 Yearbook to you, Mr. Benjamin H. Coombs.
